

Speakers Biographies

Dr Noreen Tehrani

Chair of the Crisis, Disaster and Trauma Psychology Section

British Psychological Society

Noreen is the Chair of the Crisis, Disaster and Trauma Section of the British Psychological Society and has worked with various aspects of trauma for a long time. She was directly involved in dealing with 9/11 and 7/7 terrorist attacks and more recently has worked on the Shoreham air crash, the Westminster and London Bridge terrorist attacks and the Grenfell Tower disaster. She has also supported first responders and victims of a wide range of other traumatic incidents including child abuse, murders, rapes, fatal accidents and road crashes.

Currently she is working with several police forces to reduce the incidence of primary and secondary trauma in police officers and staff involved in working in undercover operations, firearms, road deaths and child abuse.

Noreen has written many articles, papers and book chapters including two books on trauma Workplace Trauma - concepts, assessment and intervention and Managing Trauma in the Workplace.

Prof Paul French

Adult Mental Health Clinical Lead

Greater Manchester and Eastern Cheshire Strategic Clinical Networks

Paul has worked within the NHS since 1986 working within inpatient, community and psychological therapy services, predominantly working with people experiencing psychosis and psychotic related disorders. He completed a PhD in 2007 in psychological factors associated with people at high risk of developing psychosis and was appointed as honorary professor at University of Liverpool in 2014. He is an author of over 50 publications in peer reviewed journals in addition to a number of books, book chapters and reports. Currently Paul is an applicant on a number of NIHR clinical trials with a total grant income of over £7M.

Currently Paul holds a number of regional positions including Clinical Lead for Early Psychosis in the North West for NHSE and holds the position of Clinical Lead for Mental Health for Greater Manchester Strategic Clinical Networks. He is a member of the National Expert Reference Group which developed the clinical implementation guide for the Access and Waiting times standards for Early Psychosis.

Additionally Paul is the Adult Mental Health Lead at the GMEC Strategic Clinical Networks and supports mental health across GM.

Dr Claire Maguire

Clinical and Professional Lead for Psychological Therapies Pennine Care NHS Foundation Trust

Claire Maguire is the Clinical and Professional lead for Psychological Therapies at Pennine Care NHS Foundation Trust. Claire is a Consultant Clinical Psychologist and Psychodynamic Psychotherapist with a particular interest in trauma informed services and compassionate care. For over 10 years Claire was also a Health Commissioner with a CCG and worked in a number of Commissioning roles and she is currently a member of the Greater Manchester, Lancashire and South Cumbria Clinical Senate council.

Claire was involved in the development of the Improving access to Psychological Therapies (IAPT) programme for Children and young people and she led on the development of the Specialised Military Veterans Mental Health service that covers Lancashire and Greater Manchester.

Claire has been involved in the development of the Resilience hub and is part of the Greater Manchester wide steering group overseeing the mental health response following the Arena bombing.

Dr Alan Barrett

Consultant Clinical Psychologist & Clinical Lead (Adults) Manchester Resilience Hub, Pennine Care NHS Foundation Trust

Dr Alan Barrett is a Consultant Clinical Psychologist and has been the Clinical Lead for England's largest dedicated NHS Military Veterans Psychological Therapies Service since launching in 2011. As an active member of the North West Armed Forces Network, Alan additionally represents the region at the National Military Veterans Mental Health Network, and is also currently a member of the Mental Health sub group for the National Armed Forces Clinical reference group at NHS England, advising on best practice on the mental health care of serving and ex-military personnel.

Alan is passionate about normalising psychological reactions to abnormal events. Using his knowledge of the psychological impact of IED's, he was instrumental in establishing The Manchester Resilience Hub, where he also works as the Adult Clinical lead. The Hub was established to coordinate the NHS response to victims of the Manchester Arena Attack, and has supported over 2500 individuals to date.

Dr Paul Campbell

Consultant Clinical Psychologist & Clinical Lead North West Boroughs Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust & Greater Manchester and Eastern Cheshire Strategic Clinical Networks

Paul was born and raised in Belfast, Northern Ireland during "The Troubles". In his early career he worked as a researcher carrying out research into the psychological trauma caused by The Troubles. He moved to England in 2003 to train as a Clinical Psychologist and since qualifying has been working for the 5 Boroughs Partnership (now North West Boroughs Healthcare) NHS Foundation Trust in Primary Care Mental Health Services.

He is currently the Clinical Lead for all Adult IAPT Services provided by this Trust as well as being the Clinical Lead for Adult IAPT for the Greater Manchester & Eastern Cheshire Strategic Clinical Network. He also provides consultation on service delivery and achieving recovery rates for IAPT services.

Neil McLauchlan
Local Director (North West)
Health Education England

Having trained as a nurse, Neil's worked in London, India and Manchester, predominantly in respiratory medicine and clinical teaching. He moved to the North West in 1987, initially working as a clinical manager and then in general management at University Hospitals of South Manchester NHS Foundation Trust before working in education commissioning becoming Head of Education Commissioning and then Joint Local director for HEE in the North West.

Neil's role at HEE as Local Director includes specific support for the STPs in the North West. He is SRO for the Education Transformation function across the North and jointly supports the delivery of the local, regional and national role of HEE.

---

Derek Marshall
Associate Director of Workforce Planning and Information (North)
Health Education England

Derek leads the integrated workforce planning, information and intelligence function across the North and supports the National Director. This includes working with a range of stakeholders nationally, regionally and locally to ensure we support the wider workforce development agenda.

Derek has a background in workforce planning and strategy development, including working in a range of NHS organisations and a spell in the Department of Health.

---

Mike Burgess
Workforce and Education Transformation Lead
(Lancashire and South Cumbria)
Health Education England

With over 16 years of experience within the NHS, Mike has worked in a range of workforce roles that include: workforce analysis, performance, organisation development, leadership and workforce strategy and planning.

Mike is currently the workforce and education transformation lead for Lancashire and South Cumbria (L&SC) supporting the Local Workforce Action Board (LWAB) and the workforce components of the L&SC care work streams. Mike is Chair of the HEE national workforce planner's network and is an active participant on numerous boards and groups regarding workforce at local, regional and national level.

Clare Baguley

Programme Manager, North West Psychological Professions Network
Interim HEE North of England Mental Health Lead

Clare Baguley is the Programme Manager for the Psychological Professions Network employed by Health Education England's North West Team. She trained as a Cognitive Behaviour Therapist at the Oxford Centre for Cognitive Therapy in 1998, having previously worked as a Community Psychiatric Nurse in Greater Manchester. She is currently Interim HEE Mental Health Lead for the North of England.

In 2004 she joined The University of Manchester and led the post-graduate education programme for Psychological Wellbeing Practitioners under the Department of Health's Improving Access to Psychological Therapies (IAPT) programme, which latterly developed to incorporate pathways in dementia care and psycho-social interventions for psychosis.

Clare has worked at regional and national responsibilities for managing and developing the teaching and learning interface with clinical practice in the NHS. She contributes training and conferences on primary care mental health with a particular interest in the use of psychological approaches in physical health care settings.

Dr Gita Bhutani

Chair of the North West Psychological Professions Network
Associate Director for Psychological Professions,
Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust
Honorary Research Fellow, University of Liverpool

Gita is a clinical psychologist and has specialised in working with older people and adults in Glasgow, Salford and now Lancashire. Gita's current role is as Associate Director for Psychological Professions at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust. This post combines a governance and leadership role with service management. Gita's current clinical work is within the Lancashire Traumatic Stress Service.

Her current clinical and research interests are in post-traumatic stress and staff health and wellbeing. Gita has developed and delivers a well-being training package for staff – Looking After You, Looking After Me (LAMLAY) and has presented at conferences in this area.

She also contributes to national and professional bodies including committee work and roles at NICE (PTSD guidelines update, Quality Standards), BPS Division of Clinical Psychology and is joint national Staff Wellbeing lead for Positive Practice in Mental Health. She is also joint lead on a regional Schwartz Rounds project aimed at extending Schwartz Rounds across the North West.